“I owe my health to what I’ve learned at InAct. Today, I have a good, long-term job, I pay taxes, I have my children back, and I have a house that I share with my best friend and my very loved pets – and I was once considered mentally disabled. Now I’m back in society, clean and healthy. If I hadn’t gone to InAct, I would still be a mess. I’d be a convicted felon, still using, living off State assistance, my kids in foster care, maybe in jail – or dead. I am what InAct can achieve and I owe my life to InAct!”
