

MOVING FORWARD

A second chance to work together

Volunteers of America Oregon

In Multnomah County, Oregon, some individuals who have been arrested are presented with a unique opportunity to positively shift the direction of their lives. Instead of serving years in prison, some people may qualify and opt for sentencing in the Justice Reinvestment Program (JRP) - a second chance to stay in our community. To help people with a JRP sentence get back on track and overcome the enormous obstacles in their lives, Moving Forward coordinates a supportive team with a comprehensive menu of housing, mentors, employment, family and treatment services provided in concert with parole and probation services. Surrounding people with healthy connections promotes better decision-making, resulting in drug and crime-free lives. Moving Forward increases public safety locally and cost effectively, and reduces statewide prison use, the most expensive option for our wallets, our families and our future.

Volunteers of America Oregon | Multnomah County Department of Community Justice

Bridges to Change | SE Works | Human Solutions | Central City Concern

Multnomah County District Attorney | Worksystems Inc

Gang Impacted Family Team | Center for Family Success

Kathy B. Sevos, Director of Transition and Reentry Services

Moving Forward

Volunteers of America Oregon

ksevoss@voaor.org | 503.595.3477 ext. 1788

Jamie Tynan, Lead Parole/Probation Officer

Multnomah County Justice Reinvestment Program

Department of Community Justice

jamie.b.miles@multco.us | Phone: 503-988-8633

Moving Forward - Volunteers of America Oregon
10564 SE Washington St. Portland, Oregon 97216

Updated February 2015